THE San Francisco Commercial Herald opposes a reduction of the sugar duties, even for the purpose of cir-cumventing the Trust. It considers that, in view of the tariff taxation borne by California for the sake of the East, the Eastern people should be submissive to the sugar duties for the sake of California's rising beet sugar industry.

THE Board of Health is looking in the right direction when it takes into contemplation the project of having slaughter houses, markets, etc., owned by the Government. Corporations of cities elsewhere have found it necessary, in the interest of the public health, to take abattoirs and similar establishments into proprietary control.

A San Francisco genius has invented a process of tanning in which To the Collector-General of Customs. electricity is the chief agent, tan bark is dispensed with, and the manufacture of leather cheapened fifty per cent as well as improved in quality. Some of our Honolulu capitalists might get hold of this invention and have all Hawaiian hides and skins tanned here, also have a shoe factory established. Why not?

The barkentine Mabel B. Towers arrived at New Bedford, March 29th. from Fayal, the Azores, with 13 cabin and over 200 steerage passengers. One hundred of the steerage passengers had their fares paid to California. This gives support to the statement in the Gazette some time ago, which Mr. Marques and others questioned without producing a shred of evidence to the contrary, that Portuguese coming here in many cases have intentions of G. HITCHCOCK as Sheriff for the Island of ultimately settling in California. The above news shows simply that the Azoreans who can afford it go to California without making a stepping stone of this group. Probably a portion of those hundred fares mentioned was paid with money earned on Hawaiian plantations.

> THE Glasgow Mail concludes a review of the Queen's letter to Miss Gordon in the following plain language: "But we care nothing as to who are the particular Ministers upon whom the Queen's condemnation falls. The question is constitutional, not personal. We dispute the right of the Queen at any time to secretly at-tack her responsible Ministers, be they who they may. Her Majesty wrote that she felt 'the stain left upon England.' The stain is not upon England'-nor upon Scotland or Ireland, but upon the Sovereign who censures the action of her Ministers in a private letter, and then authorizes its publication when their lips are sealed by the constitutional etiquette she disregards."

> AMERICAN seed dealers have been reserting to a clever dodge to evade

the postage on seeds sent through the Postoffice. The rate on seeds mailed in Canada is about one-quarter that in the United States, and to get the benefit of the low rates there, Vick & Co., of Rochester, sent five hundred pounds of seeds as freight to Toronto, where their agent mailed them to their customers in both Canada and the United States, thus saving over one half the postage. The Postmaster-General at Washington has checkmated the seedsmen by issuing an order, rating up the postage due on all such parcels from Canada to the rate chargeable when mailed in the United States. The whole matter is engaging the attention of Her Majesty's Government and forms the subject of diplomatic negotiations now in progress. Any intemperate action in the meanwhile would be most detrimental to British Columbia interests, and might lead to serious complications, and be followed by grave consequences to those con-cerned. LANSDOWNE.

A PORTION of the California press commends Mr. Bayard's Chinese treaty as a long step forward in the interest of the white people of the Coast. The Stockton Mail, in so abundant reasons for believing that there is a class of newspapers which hates the President so sincerely that, if he could by any possibility usher in the millenium, they would find fault with him for doing so." Then, after with him for doing so." Then, after stating the chief points in the treaty, has been reached, the coolie population will decrease about in proporcountry, for not one in three hundred will be able to establish his right to return. From all that we have seen of it, we are of the opinion that the new treaty will answer our needs better than anything in the way of a treaty which, thus far, has been suggested.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The weekly meeting of the Board of Health was held on Friday afternoon. Present: Dr. N. B. Emerson, President; Hon. S. M. Damon and Hon. J. T. Waterhouse, ir., members; Mr. W. G. Ashley, Secretary; Captain J. H. Brown, Agent, and representatives of the GAZETTE and Advertiser.

The President introduced a suggesthe President introduced a suggestion that police duty at Kakaako would be expedited by having a light—if practicable, an electric lamp—elevated in the center of the yard at the Branch Hospital. He believed it would serve the purposes of several policemen there and thus allow a reduction of the patrol.

The Secretary was instructed to com-municate with the Minister of the Interior as to having such a light provided. Also, at the suggestion of Mr. Damon, the Secretary was authorized to ask the Department to provide carts or carting sand to the hospital, that naterial being offered free from the Bishop estate.

With regard to offensive emanations from stagnant water at the hospital, President characterized the device as a very ingenious one that did the officer much credit. Mr. Damon brought forward the matter of providing some accommodation for people visiting their friends who are patients at the hospital. He had been looking at the place in company with Officer Reynolds and the Mother Superior, and they all agreed that a roof and seats should be provided, and alternate pickets taken off, so that the friends of patients might be seated under shelter and talk with their afflicted people. It was proposed to furnish the convenience of to furnish the convenience at the mauka side of the gate. Mr. Damon said friends would go, and if they could not do so by fair means they different now from formerly, since the | lulu. hospital has been made only a temporary place of detention, and it was only right that their friends should see them.

It was agreed to have a conference with the Minister of the Interior on his return regarding the matter.

The President stated that only eight lepers were sent to Molokai by last steamer. There were eighteen men and eighteen women on the list for next steamer, but there were always temporary exemptions to be counted upon at the last moment, as well as escapes that would be less frequent if the light recommended was provided.

It was resolved that a female patient who was named be given a week's respite in order to adjust her affairs.

Captain Brown reported upon the condition of the slaughter houses. They were improving daily under instructions. Bones and offal were being taken away. The Chinese had promised to take the refuse away faster. He mentioned other improvements being effected.

Mr. Damon suggested under this head that the inside of the buildings should be whitewashed. Captain Brown—I have told them to whitewash them at least every three months. Mr. Waterhouse spoke of the abatthrough the paper, and is also splashed over with a blot of ink. awkward predicament.

The President said there ought to be an arrangement existing whereby a good sanitary condition would be maintained. Mr. Damon related what to him seemed a very unsatisfactory state of things on a recent visit. There was enough offal lying about to breed forty fevers. Captain Brown said he had all that burned the following day. They told him it was taken away daily. The President spoke of ordering a concrete foundation under the buildings.

Mr. Damon—I believe that the Government should own the slaughter houses and the market. Then they would have everything just right.

Capt. Brown—That is just the thing. I most heartily endorse that, and I spoke about it two years ago. The Government should control poi manufacture, wash houses and everything. The Agent then reported upon a nuisance inspected at Waikiki. Outwardly the place looked all that was desirable, but he found on strict examination it was everything that was bad. In answer to Mr. Damon, Captain Brown said that rubbish not offered the collectors in town was reported to him and he saw that it was cleared away. Another thing he had to mention was that the carts were removing earth from the streets, but, although the Board was in need of every spoonful of earth for its dumping ground, the carts were delivering it to private lots. In answer to Mr. Damon, the Agent said he could not do anything in the matter, because the carts had been handed over to the Interior Department.

The meeting then adjourned.

Hon. W. O. Smith, as speaker for the occasion, delivered an eloquent address upon the principles and objects of Odd Fellowship. Words of praise are need-less regarding the ladies who lent their services to the programme in music and elocution, having so often been be-stowed upon every one of them owing to their readiness to assist at every worthy occasion of entertaining the public. The Cecilian Club as a new element in social events, however, deserves a word. As it now made its debut by special favor, without time for practice in its few days of existence, the club consisted of: Herrick, first violin; ander Guild, second violin; Marques, viola; Wray Taylor, violoncello-Dr. Day, the remaining member, first violin, being unavoidably absent. Under the circumstances notwithstanding, the music evoked from the four instruments was delightful. After excellent sandwiches, coffee, lemonade, ice cream, cake and confec-tionery—from the Elite—had been discussed with a relish, dancing to Mr. Herrick's fine music was begun and carried on to the small hours. Besides those named above, there was a goodly assembly of ladies and gentle men, among the latter being noticed Hon. W. C. Parke, Hon. J. B. Atherton, Judge Dayton, Dr. Rodgers, Messrs. G. West, J. # From the Archives-

A three-column paper printed on one side of the sheet has been on our table for several days. It is a curiosity in its way. There is no general heading, no date and no printing office brand on it. The first column contains a couple of "By Authority" proclamations by Kamehameha IV, dated May 20, 1850, and an extract from the Civil Code "Of the Internal Taxes." The second column and part of the third is taken up with an account of the celebration of the first anniversary of the birth of H. R. H. the Prince of Hawaii, an event that was duly honored on the 20th of May, 1859, by a grand reception and military review at the Palace. The remainder of the sheet is devoted to a "List of Subseribers to the Honolulu Hospital up to May 19, 1859." The list is headed by the King and Queen with $500 each; H. R. H. the Princess Kaahumanu puts down $250; the Prince of Hawaii, then one year old, goes down for $100 and H. R. H. Prince Kamehameha and H. M. the Queen Dowager, $100 each. Then follows a list of 245 subscriptions in which the Hudson Bay Co. appears with $300 annexed; H. J. H. Holdsworth, E. Perrin, H. I. M.'s Commissioner, J. Robinson & Co., and His Ex. R. C. #### B. B. S. Concert.

The concert for the benefit of the British Benevolent Society at the Opera House on Saturday evening was successful both in patronage and performance. There was a large audience, the main auditorium being quite filled, and the programme was most enjoyable throughout. Dr. Iessen, of the Russian corvette Razboynik, opened with an improvisation and selections on the piano, evoking with a master's touch exquisite harmonies. The same gentleman appeared also in the 2d part, when he was warmly encored, but returned only to bow his acknowledgment. Sir William Wiseman, Bart., came forward on two occa-sions—the first time in a pathetic recitation that drew handkerchiefs to many eyes, and the next time with a humorous sketch, "Cicilly," by Bret Harte, followed, on a vigorous recall, with a funny bit of English dialect, entitled "Zagazias," Sir William has well-cultivated histrionic to were, the generous lending of which to worthy entertainments will make his name entertainments will make his name long remembered with esteem in this community. Mr. Tom May in fine voice sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. T. Rain Walker on the piano, Mr. T. M. Starkey, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Myron Jones, sang a solo and responded to an encore with another. At a later stage the same gentleman appeared in a duet with Mrs. John H. Paty, the accompaniment by Mr. Jones, and a loud recall was gracefully responded to. Mrs. Paty also rendered a solo in her unexcelled style, the same accompanist performing. Miss Mabel Rhodes, with Miss Von Holt as accompanist, sang a solo delightfully. The Madrigal Club made two exceedingly welcome appearances, the last closing the entertainment. Its members were Mrs. Pierre Jones and Misses Von Holt, Mist and Rhodes, and Messrs. Walker, Starkey, May and Baird. Mr. T. B. Walker managed the concert, introducing the programme in a neat speech.
